DEAR CLAY CARMICHAEL, LETTERS FROM PARENTS, TEACHERS & STUDENTS

"Nicolas came home each day excited and more confident about his writing. Two nights in a row I found him in bed late writing stories. He just couldn't stop, he told me. I cannot tell you how much we appreciate the efforts of the 4th grade team to bring this author to our child for an entire week."

"I'll remember our workshop as a highlight of my teaching career!"

"I hope to be an author just like you. If I am an author I would write I wish my brother would disappear."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, but the pencil has an eraser."

CLAY CARMICHAEL's award-winning books have been translated into many languages. She also teaches writing and illustrating to students of all ages. She lives and works in Carrboro, North Carolina. Learn more at : www.claycarmichael.com
